The two TCM monographs in the ChP 2020 edition is aimed at herbal drugs in general and includes the 73 herbal drugs considered as TCM in both pharmacopoeias. Only a few of the 73 TCM were revised. The others are still the same as in the 10th edition, namely, yaojuegan, zexie and chuanxiong. The ChP 2020 edition provides the following: Short title, Chinese traditional medicine, Pharmaceutical natural product, Herbal drugs, Japanese herbal drugs, Korean herbal drugs, Folk herbal drugs, Other drugs, Herbal medicine monograph, and Herbal medicine and health supplement; ChP is the first TCM monograph under the leadership of China's current TCM legislative body - the State Administration of Traditional Chinese Medicine (SATCM), which is in charge of promoting traditional TCM and guiding the development of Traditional Chinese medicine industry. In fact, the first edition of the ChP was published in 1999. It contains a total of 39 herbal drugs that corresponded to the Chinese herbal medicine and health supplement category of the 9th edition (EP). Thus, the ChP is one of the TCM monographs where ChP has the longest history, longest heritage, and longest history of the ChP. The ChP 2020 edition enlists more than 17,000 herbal drugs as the list of Japanese, Korean, and ChP included, and the number of Chinese herbal drugs is about 7,000. 3mL end-to-end water was added to 3mL sample followed by shaking for 15min at 2000rpm. The bottom aqueous phase was then analysed for endotoxin according to the gel-clot method of the Chinese Pharmacopoeia 2010, appendix XIE. The endotoxin level must be lower than 0.25EU/mL. Bacterial endotoxin analysis of twice diluted extracts was performed using a Tachypleus Amebocyte Lysate with a sensitivity of 0.125EU/mL (6, 7).
