KuWiFi Blueway N9200 Ultra Speed High Long Range Wireless Internet USB Adapter... Hello friend! Yes, the CD driver can be downloaded from Ralink official website. I understand that you had to switch from a wireless connection to a wired Internet connection in order to set up a wireless network connection on your computer. Otherwise, you can check the Ralink website to download the Drivers. To install the driver on a Windows XP computer, right-click on the "My Computer" icon and select "Properties". In the window that opens, select "Device Manager", search for "Network Adapters", then select "New Devices".
