BMW M3 Challenge is a racing game for people who like things to be difficult. There are no driving aids and no supercars you can drive. It's just you and the environment on three different courses to achieve as high a number as you can. Although it's not a simulation like the name suggests, it's hard and it's about two things: getting a good time with the right line and right speed, and staying out of trouble. Some of the performance of the videos shown may be artificially improved. I just got the new BMW M3 (2018) and they released the software for the Denso CCW system. I already downloaded the Garmin Map Update (v5.10) and installed the updated Garmin software. Some of the CD shows the mapper ID as "Garmin" but the rest of them is "Denso Wireless". Any idea what is going on? Any help would be appreciated.
